efficiently and trouble-free. That's why ASI was one of the first in the industry to establish a dedicated Automation & Controls department. We execute projects from simple applications to high-tech process controls to multi-building campuses. ASI is also an electrical contractor, so there's no need for subcontractors. And, to ensure your continued satisfaction our team provides ongoing support and service. For over 25 years, ASI has helped build the Bay Area...one relationship at a time.
